Valiant Hong Kong galloper who claimed the SIA Cup in dominant fashion two years ago. Lost no admirers when third last year and has always made his presence felt in marquee races in Hong Kong since. At his brilliant best in last December's Group 1 Hong Kong Cup (2000m) when a heartbreaking second to Designs On Rome, but has lost his way at two runs this campaign, including an unplaced run in the Group 1 APQEII Cup on April 26. Getting on a little but loves Kranji and won't surprise if he bounces back to his best. Prefers good to firm.

Last year's winner has had a chequered run since, heading down to Australia for a tilt at the Cox Plate, which was, however, aborted due to a throat infection. Back in Hong Kong, he ran four times without success, but did show a return to form at his last couple of starts, including his third to stablemate Able Friend after showing the way in the Group Champions Mile on May 3. John Moore is an astute trainer and would have brought his charge to his peak for his title defence. Better on top of the ground.

Japanese galloper who has clocked in many staying outings at Group level under the belt, but has yet to score. He did run third in the Grade 1 Japanese Derby (2400m) at long odds last year. Ran a pleasing fourth at his first-up race (1800m at Nakayama) in March from a two-month let-up, just a neck behind Stephanos, recent second in the Group 1 APQEII Cup (2000m) in Hong Kong. Won at his last start, a 2000m race at Fukushima on April 12. Races handy or midfield and has a decent turn of foot. Prefers firm tracks. First overseas raid. Can surprise if he settles in well.

Last year's runner-up, but has mixed his form since. Unplaced in the Grade 1 Arlington Million (2000m), bounced back with a second in a Group 3 race over 2000m back home before going for a break. Two runs back have been disappointing. Eighth in the Group 2 Prix d'Harcourt (2000m) at his comeback race and never a factor in the Group 1 APQEII Cup (2000m). Noted bad trackworker who prefers sting out of the ground. Chance only if he brings his A game back.

Honest Argentinian-bred who is just a notch below the top guns at Kranji. Runs mainly on turf but three of his four wins were recorded on Polytrack, at his only three attempts. Has two Group 3 wins to his credit but best run was arguably his second to War Affair in last year's Group 1 Panasonic Kranji Mile (1600m). Trialed well on May 7 and is in tip-top shape. No win over 2000m against him. Job ahead at this level even with Joao Moreira in the irons.

Last year's impressive Singapore Gold Cup winner began 2015 with a bang in Group 3 New Year Cup (1900m) on Polytrack, but has come up short at next three runs, beaten a whisker by Stepitup in the Group 2 QEII Cup (2000m) at his last start. Seems to be a bit dour these days, but is still in sparkling form as seen at his solid hit-out in a barrier trial on May 7. Has peaked for that race. Prefers a good track and will be one of the leading local hopes.

Small in size but big-hearted. Blitzed his three-year-old peers two years ago and lost no marks as a four-year-old landing two Group 3 wins in middle-distance events. Often luckless when caught wide or checked, he finally redeemed himself since moving to trainer Laurie Laxon's yard this year with a gutsy head win to nut out Quechua in the Group 2 QEII Cup (2000m) on April 26. Handles good tracks mostly. Always tries his best, but may be tested at this International level, especially if he draws wide.

A two-time winner on dirt (1600m to 2500m) in Argentina before being imported to Dubai where he captured one 2000m race, also on dirt, last December. He then ran last in the Group 2 Dubai Gold Cup (3200m, turf) on Dubai World Cup night at his last start. Being the first of overseas runners to arrive on May 2, he has had more time to acclimatise. Has been working well. Form seems to be handier on All-Weather, but he can handle turf as well. Unproven quantity who faces a stiff task.

Usual suspect in French staying features. Boasts two Group wins, the Group 2 Prix Hocquart over 2200m and the Group 3 Prix du Prince d'Orange over 2000m when he beat Adelaide, Cox Plate winner, both at Longchamp. Beat one home in the Arc (2400m) last year and resumed with a creditable fifth in the Group 2 Prix d'Harcourt (2000m) last month. Versatile sort who can run up with the pace or be held up for a run. Likes good to soft tracks.

Supplemented for the SIA Cup following his back-to-back wins in the Group 3 Polytrack Mile Championship (1600m) and Group 3 Marsiling Classic Stakes (1800m), both on Polytrack. Did not see out the trip in the Group 2 QEII Cup (2000m) on April 26. Began his local as a sprinter, then sprinter-miler, but he remains a query at the 1 ¼ mile. Hard to recommend despite his handy form in easier company.

English-bred stayer who claimed his biggest win in the Group 2 QEII Cup (2000m) last year. Well beaten in last year's SIA Cup when he was ridden up with the pace before puncturing late to run last. Has struggled since and was tipped out after an unplaced run in the Longines Singapore Gold Cup (2200m). Had comeback runs over trips not made to suit but did show a glimpse of his old form when stepping up to 2000m with a solid fourth to Stepitup in the QEII Cup on April 26. Best on good track but does not mind some give either.
